Yellow Jacket Club honors Athletes of the Year

Stefanie Swift and Eric Fillinger have been selected 1989-90 Athletes of the Year by the Cedarville College Yellow Jacket Club. Swift was a member of the women's tennis team while Fillinger, who won the male award for the second straight year, is a track and cross country standout.

Swift, a senior from Columbus, Ohio, put together a 10-2 singles record this spring. She was the NAIA District 22 champion at number two singles and number one doubles. Stefanie was voted to the all-district team and she helped the Lady Jackets win their first district title since 1986.

Swift carried a 3.534 grade point average in Business Administration. She was a two-time NAIA Scholar-Athlete, plus she was named a 1990 Academic All-American as selected by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association.

Other female nominees were Lynn

Strickland (track & field), Michelle Nakano (volleyball), Denise DeWalt (softball), Diane Rank (basketball), and Brenda Paulhamus (cross country).

Fillinger, a senior from Cincinnati, Ohio, has been described as the best distance runner that Cedarville College has ever had. In cross country, he was a three-time NCCAA national champion and a three-time NAIA All-American.

Eric has earned All-America honors in NAIA track in the indoor three-mile, and outdoors in the 10,000 meters and the marathon. He carried a 3.2 GPA as a pre-med major.

Other male nominees were Michael Minto (basketball), Steve Brumbaugh (tennis), Rod Haseltine (soccer), Ryan Bowen (golf), and Shane Hardy (baseball).

The Yellow Jacket Club has selected

Athletes of the Year since 1983. Nominees are taken from each coach and the winners are selected by the YJC committee on the basis of athletic ability, athletic honors received, leadership, scholarship, and Christian character.

While all athletes are eligible, the honor has always been awarded to either a junior or senior. Each Athlete of the Year receives a $250 award, a plaque, and their names are engraved on a plaque that remains in the Varsity Room in the Athletic Center.

Eric Fillinger (left) and Stefanie Swift were named the Yellow Jacket Club's Male and Female Athletes of the Year for 1989-90.

Cedarville receives NCCAA Sports Ministries Award

Cedarville College was the recipient of one of the most prestigious awards ever given by the National Christian College Athletic Association. Cedarville was presented the organization's first-ever Sports Ministries Award in March during the NCCAA Pro-Am Golf Tournament in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Dr. Barry May, executive director of the NCCAA, made the presentation to Dr. Paul Dixon, president of Cedarville College, and Dr. Don Callan, the school's athletic director. The award included a $1,000 check from Austin Travel, the sponsor of the award and official travel agency of the NCCAA.

The purpose of the award, which will be presented annually, is to recognize member institutions of significant spiritual outreach through the utilization of athletic ministries.

"This award carries a great deal of satisfaction," said Callan. "This is what Cedarville College is all about."

Cedarville is recognized as the pacesetter in the NCCAA in the use of athletic teams in overseas ministries. Over 130 male students, faculty, staff, and alumni have participated in 19 "Athletes for Christ" basketball team trips to the Philippines since 1971. One women's basketball team went to China in 1981.

Approximately 50 people have been involved in four separate soccer team trips to the Ivory Coast along with Coach John McGillivray. Plus, Callan and former NBA standout Bobby Jones have begun conducting basketball clinics in Spain.

Callan's Comments

Dr. Don Callan, Athletic Director

The first time I heard of the idea of using a team of basketball players or any other sports team to present Christ to the masses was in 1952, the spring of my freshman year in college. Don Odle, my college coach, got the athletes together each week for an athletic prayer meeting and he asked us to pray for him and the idea of basketball evangelism. Three years later I had the privilege of becoming a part of that group known as Venture for Victory.

The Venture for Victory program soon became a Freedom Foundation award winner. This award came as a result of the work they were doing not only as ambassadors for Christ but as ambassadors for the American people. This program has had a great impact for the cause of Christ world wide since that time.

From my perspective, Coach Odle and the Venture for Victory program were two of the most vital influences on my life and the direction of my career here at Cedarville College. Coach Odle made basketball come alive by providing a vehicle through which I could present Christ to those who might otherwise never hear the gospel message that Christ died for them.

Twenty years ago here at Cedarville I once again dreamed of such a venture for my players. Through the encouragement of Rev. Harold Green, the then new "campus pastor" and presently Vice President of Christian Ministries, and one of my players, Loren Reno, now Lt. Col. Reno of the U.S. Air Force stationed at the Pentagon, we started the Athletes for Christ and the Missionary Internship Service program. Since that date 1,387 students and faculty and staff have visited 47 countries and raised over 2 million dollars.

This summer our M.I.S. program has grown to an all time high of 125 participants. Previously we have sent teams including 19 basketball teams to the Philippine Islands, Hong Kong and Taiwan, one women's basketball team to China, three soccer teams to Africa, and even a cross country team that ran non-stop from Portland, Oregon to Portland, Maine. Many other of our athletes have toured with Athletes in Action, Score International, Christian Sports Outreach International, and other sports outreach organizations.

As I Cor. 9:22 states through Paul, "I am become all things to all men that I might by all means save some." Paul goes on in verse 24 to say, "they that run in a race run all, but one receives the prize, so run that ye might obtain."

We live in a day where new strategies need to be used to not only get into some countries but to gain a platform for our message. Sports can be one of these strategies both cross culturally and here in the U.S.A.

Sports is a medium through which relationships with people can be built. Sports seem to be able to cut through cultural as well as political barriers. We have seen this take place in Spain with our clinic ministry in cooperation with missionaries Dave Stoner and Jack Shifflet and former all-Pro basketball player Bobby Jones.

At the recent Dallas meeting of the International Sports Coalition I heard Bill Sunderland of World Sports, Inc. state that "Sports is a universal language understood by almost all cultures and their subgroups."

Let's be and do all we can for Christ, even through sports.

From left, Dr. Don Callan, missionary Jack Shifflet, former NBA star Bobby Jones, plus Cedarville graduate and missionary Dave Stoner have begun a ministry in Spain that revolves around basketball clinics. Ministries such as these led to the naming of Cedarville College as the first recipient of the NCCAA Sports Ministries Award.

It is fitting that the language of the last paragraph of the plaque reads, "Be it declared that on this 18th day of March, 1990, the first National Christian College Athletic Association Sports Ministries Award is presented to Cedarville College, Cedarville, Ohio, for two decades of resourceful spiritual outreach through its athletic teams under the leadership of athletic director, Dr. Don Callan."

Lady netters win district title

Cedarville swept every flight in winning their first NAIA District 22 championship since 1986. Pam Diehl was tabbed district Coach of the Year after leading her team to victory.

"This year we got the job done," said Diehl, referring to last year's district tourney loss in a tiebreaker to Walsh College. "The gals played with confidence and achieved the goal we had set at the start of the season — that's to win the district championship."

Senior Janell Holloway paced the charge by easily winning the #1 singles flight. She lost only one game in her two matches.

Stefanie Swift, another senior, needed three sets to win the second flight. Cedarville took the other four flights with seven of the eight matches decided in straight sets. Winners were Julie Swift, Elaine Stroup, Julie Seaman, and Carol Chamberlain.

Holloway and Stefanie Swift breezed to victory at #1 doubles by winning both matches in straight sets. Julie Swift and Michelle Nakano came from behind to win their first match in three sets in the second flight and then took the final in straight sets. Seaman and Jennifer Smith had no problem in winning the third flight.

Holloway and the Swift sisters were voted to the All-NAIA District 22 team in both singles and doubles. Stroup earned the honor in singles, and Nakano got the nod in doubles.

Cedarville posted a best-ever 10-2 record during the regular season. The Swift sisters were named to the NAIA Scholar-Athlete team.

Bowen leads linksters, wins district

The Yellow Jacket golf season was marked by three team tournament titles and a representative at the NAIA national championships. Cedarville won the NCCAA District III, Clark State Invitational, and Malone Invitational tournaments, while junior Ryan Bowen won medalist honors at the NAIA District 22 tournament.

Bowen needed overtime to win the district tournament. He shot rounds of 78 and 77 at the Apple Valley Golf Club in Mt. Vernon to tie for first place before winning the individual title outright on the first playoff hole.

Bowen became the first Cedarville golfer in 11 years to cop district medalist honors and was the first representative from the school to play in the NAIA national tournament since 1981. He missed the cut by four shots at the Nationals in Angola, Ind. after carding rounds of 82 and 75.

The Yellow Jackets finished third in the ten-team district field with a 663 total. Malone won the 36-hole event with a 649 to nip Tiffin which had 650. Sean Cannone turned in the second-best rounds for the Yellow Jackets with scores of 83 and 80.

Cedarville tied Malone College with identical 317 scores in the Pioneers' invitational, but the Jackets won the tiebreaker. Bowen was medalist with a 76.

Bowen led the team this spring with a 79.1 average per 18 holes with half of his 16 rounds being in the 70's. Dan Schearer averaged 81.9 and Cannone was at 83.9.

Softball squad cops district, WBCC titles

Cedarville won its first NAIA District 22 and Western Buckeye Collegiate Conference titles to highlight the softball season. The Lady Jackets acquired a lot of interest en route to posting a best-ever 29-5 record.

Coach Bob Fires' ball club rewrote the softball record book in every respect. New standards in hitting and pitching were established in nearly every category.

Freshman shortstop Denise DeWalt was named to the NAIA All-America second team. She is the first Lady Jacket athlete to earn NAIA All-America honors in a sport other than track.

DeWalt, a native of Bakersfield, Calif., batted .615 for the season which wiped out the old school record for hitting in a single season by 225 points. She established new school records for at bats (122), runs (50), hits (75), doubles (21), steals (26), assists (61), slugging percentage (.893), and on base percentage (.645). DeWalt added a team-high 34 runs batted in from her lead-off position.

Freshman Cindy Weibert was a two-time NAIA National Pitcher of the Week and was voted NAIA District 22 Player of the Year. She was 13-2 with an 0.63 ERA. In 88 2/3 innings, she allowed just 15 runs, eight earned, on 17 hits with 205 strikeouts and 39 walks.

Weibert struck out 16 or more batters in a game nine times including 20 or more twice. She pitched a perfect game, another no-hitter, seven one-hitters, and five two-hitters.

Joining DeWalt and Weibert on the All-NAIA District 22 team were first baseman Diane Rank and catcher Sara Norder, both sophomores. Rank batted .368 with 26 rbi's while Norder hit .311 with 25 rbi's.

Those four players were named to the All-WBCC team along with junior pitcher Chris Jackson. She set a school record for victories in a season with her 16-3 mark and 1.45 ERA. Fires was voted Coach of the Year in both NAIA District 22 and the WBCC.

Cedarville had six players bat .310 or better this season. Seven players scored 20 or more runs and eight registered 15 or more rbi's. The Jackets outscored the opposition 267-74 and had a lofty .335 team batting average with 69 doubles and 12 triples.

This team is young and talented. With more top notch players expected to join the program, Cedarville softball is looking to accomplish even bigger things next year.

Baseball team ends 20-year drought

Not much was expected of the Cedarville College baseball team in 1990. That thought was emphasized after the Jackets began the season 0-6-1 before winning their final game of their Florida trip.

Then they came north to the colder climes of Ohio. Coach Pete Reese's ball club used the howling winds, frequent drizzle, and even snow squalls to their advantage and won 11 of their next 12 games.

"We must be a cold weather team," quipped Reese during the winning streak. "These guys are playing good ball and bad conditions don't bother them."

The Jackets won 18 of their last 25 regular season games and not only qualified for the NAIA District 22 playoffs, they hosted the event as the top seed with their 13-4 district record.

What's more, Cedarville went 9-3 in the Mid-Ohio Conference to finish as league co-champions along with Ohio Dominican. It was the school's first share of the MOC baseball title since 1970.

Cedarville ended an eight-year, 16-game losing streak to ODC in the process by beating the Panthers 7-4 in the first game of a doubleheader in Columbus. ODC took the nightcap 2-0.

The Jackets took a 3-0 lead into the ninth inning against Mt. Vernon Nazarene in the district tournament, but the Cougars rallied for a shocking 4-3 win. Findlay eliminated the host school the next day with a convincing 18-5 decision.

The Yellow Jackets tied a school record for victories in a season with their final mark of 18-15-1. Reese was voted NAIA District 22 Coach of the Year by his peers.

Senior pitcher Shane Hardy was named to the All-NAIA District 22 team after posting an 8-2 record with one save. He ranked second in the district with a 1.82 ERA.

Classmate Adam Winters was selected at third base with his team-leading .420 batting average which rated fifth in the district batting race. He also paced the team in doubles (11), runs scored (27), and he tied for the team lead in rbi's (31).

Junior Todd Clemens was the all-district designated hitter and was second on the team in hitting at .322.

Cedarville was the NCCAA District III tournament runner-up after taking top-seeded Spring Arbor to the wire before losing 7-5. Winters, Hardy, freshman outfielder Dan Ambrose, and junior catcher John Yoder were selected to the all-district team.

Hardy and Winters, who shared team MVP honors, will be lost to graduation, as will shortstop Gary Dankworth. He hit .304 this season with a team-high five homers and 28 rbi's. Dankworth batted .438 in five games at the NCCAA District III tourney with three homers, six runs scored, and nine rbi's.

Rod Haseltine is the other graduating senior. He has held down the team's center field position and has been selected the squad's outstanding outfielder the past two years.

Smoke usually attracts attention. That which was generated by Cindy Weibert's heat was no exception.

The freshman softball pitcher from Sanger, California turned people, who probably never knew where the Cedarville field was located, into schedule-toting softball converts who were willing to brave the Ohio elements to watch this kid pitch.

She struck out 20 in her collegiate debut and ears perked up as the news spread. Weibert was named NAIA National Pitcher of the Week.

The media began catching the fever. WDTN TV-2, Dayton's ABC affiliate, showed up at her second collegiate start. Pitching in wind chill conditions that dipped to the upper 30's, Cindy fanned 17 Ohio Dominican batters in a 2-1 win.

Two weeks later she went 5-0 in one week with a perfect game, another no-hitter, two one-hitters, a two-hitter, 84 strikeouts and nine walks. That's a season for most hurlers. The result — she became the only player to be selected National Pitcher of the Week twice in the same season.

Want more stats?

Entering the 1990 season, Cedarville's school record for strikeouts in one game was 13. Weibert fanned 16 or more in a game nine times. She whiffed 21 in a 1-0, eight-inning victory at Mt. Vernon Nazarene.

The media interest continued to grow. Weibert was featured in the Springfield News-Sun, and along with fellow west coast teammates Denise DeWalt and DeAnn Lancaster, they received a spread in the Xenia Daily Gazette. Cindy also received three write-ups in the Dayton Daily News.

The May 7 issue of The Sporting News carried four paragraphs on Cindy's exploits in Bob McCoy's "Keeping Score" column. The biggest break came in the June 11 issue of Sports Illustrated when Weibert appeared in the popular "Faces in the Crowd" section.

Weibert was one of several newcomers who helped breathe life into an average Lady Jacket program. Cedarville waltzed to a 29-5 record and Cindy was tabbed NAIA District 22 Player of the Year after overwhelming every district opponent in her path.

Cindy Weibert

The rookie righthander used her five-pitch arsenal to strike out the side an amazing 41 times this spring. In 27 of those innings, she faced the minimum three batters.

When Weibert got into a groove, the defense could take a powder as Cindy and sophomore catcher Sara Norder played catch. Weibert twice fanned nine batters in a row, and against Shawnee State, which was her perfect game performance, she opened the contest by striking out the first ten.

Weibert finished with a 13-2 record and 0.63 earned run average. She allowed just eight earned runs on 17 hits this season and averaged more than 16 strikeouts per game.

I've been the SID at Cedarville College for seven years and prior to that I played for four years in the golf and basketball programs with some outstanding athletes. No one, and I repeat, no one has brought as much attention to Cedarville College athletics in one season as Cindy Weibert has. Athletes with her ability help make my position even more enjoyable.

This kid can pitch. And I'm not blowing smoke.

The new Cedarville College track and field complex, which is designed and built under the direction of men's track coach Tim Walters, will be dedicated during ceremonies on Homecoming Weekend this October.

Strickland earns NCCAA All-American honors

Senior Lynn Strickland became Cedarville's fifth NAIA All-American in women's track with her performance at the national meet at Tarleton State University in Stephenville, Texas. She placed fifth in the heptathlon with 4,718 points which is a new school record.

Strickland, who is from Phoenix, Ariz., set school records in four of the seven events in the heptathlon. She recorded new marks in the 100 meter hurdles (15.39 seconds), shot put (37'3½"), long jump (17'1"), and javelin (112'9"). Her efforts in the other three events were 5'4" in the high jump, 26.31 seconds in the 200 meter dash, and 2:38.55 in the 800 meter run.

"It was an outstanding effort by Lynn," remarked women's coach Elvin King. "This was a goal of hers and her performance peaked at the national meet. She has proven that she is one of the finest all-around athletes that we've ever had at Cedarville."

Strickland was Cedarville's lone NCCAA All-American this spring. She won the high jump with a leap of 5'4" and the Jackets placed fourth as a team in the meet. Laurel Yates and Kari Clark were selected NCCAA Academic All-Americans.

Strickland was an All-NAIA District 22 performer in the high jump. She was joined on the team by Brenda Paulhamus who won the 800 meters.

Cedarville's six-year reign as WBCC champions came to an end as the University of Findlay outpointed the

Lynn Strickland

Yellow Jackets. Strickland won five events and set a meet record in the long jump. Paulhamus set a new meet record in winning the 800, and Sharie Brooker did the same in capturing the 1500 meter title. Krista Pritchard was a winner in the 3,000 and 5,000 meter runs.

Fillinger completes All-American career

Senior Eric Fillinger completed his career by becoming an NAIA All-American for the sixth time. He placed third in the marathon at the NAIA national meet which was held on May 24-26 at Tarleton State University in Stephenville, Texas. Fillinger's time for the 26 miles 385 yards was 2 hours 35 minutes.

Fillinger, regarded as the best distance runner that Cedarville has ever had, was an NAIA All-American three times in cross country, twice in outdoor track, and once in indoor track. He was a three-time NCCAA cross country champion and a four-time NCCAA All-American in the sport. The Cincinnati native was also a one-time recipient of the Wheeler Award as the outstanding Christian cross country runner of the year.

Fillinger was the only Cedarville male to earn NCCAA All-American status in track this spring. He won the 10,000 meter run in 31:32.18. The Yellow Jackets finished seventh in the 18-team field.

The 400 meter relay squad of Dave Weber, Jason Crary, Tim Cole, and Dave Reid broke a 15-year old school record in the event. They turned in a time of 43.07 seconds at a meet in Hillsdale, Michigan to nip the old mark of 43.14.

All-NAIA District 22 performances were turned in by Fillinger in the 10,000, Cole in the 200 meters, Ron Pierce in the high jump, and the 400 meter relay unit. The Jackets finished third in the Mid-Ohio Conference meet with Fillinger winning both the 5,000 and 10,000 meter runs, and Steve McGinnis took the pole vault title.

Sports in Brief

Cedarville College graduate Maryalyce Jeremiah, who is the head women's basketball coach at Cal State Fullerton, was presented the 1990 Carol Eckman Award during the women's Final Four in Tennessee. The award is given annually by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association to the coach who best represents sportsmanship and ethics in the coaching profession.

"It's an honor to be nominated," said Jeremiah, a 1965 Cedarville graduate. "It's for the intangibles — the things you do every day because they should be done, not just because you are going to be rewarded. One of the most important things in my life is consistency, so to receive this very prestigious award means a lot to me."

Maryalyce Jeremiah

The Carol Eckman Award is presented in memory of the former women's basketball coach at West Chester University, Pa. who is regarded as the "mother" of the women's national championships after organizing the first official tournament in 1969.

Jeremiah has posted a 76-68 record in five years at Fullerton.

Her career mark in 21 years is 339-211 which includes previous coaching jobs at Cedarville, Dayton, and Indiana.

Paul Gathany, general manager of CDR Radio, has announced plans for the station to install a telephone service known as the "Yellow Jacket SportsLine." Cedarville fans will be able to call the number at any time to receive the latest Yellow Jacket results, plus hear interviews with coaches and athletes.

The sportsline information will be a take-off from "Yellow Jackets Sports Update," which has aired weekdays on CDR for the past eight years. It is a 2½-minute program written and produced by Mark Womack, the school's sports information director.

"We hope to have the hotline in place by the time the fall teams begin their seasons this September first," said Gathany. "We expect the users of the service will be alumni, parents of students involved in sports, and local CDR Radio listeners who miss or are unable to hear Sports Update over the air."

The phone number for the "Yellow Jacket SportsLine" is (513) 766-8800 and it will be a 3-minute call available 24 hours a day. The information will be updated Monday through Friday. The service will begin on September 3 and continue through May 31.

Cedarville College won the All-Sports Trophy in the Western Buckeye Collegiate Conference for the second straight year which is the only two years it has been awarded. The Yellow Jackets won league titles in cross country, volleyball, and softball. They finished second in track and fourth in basketball.

Other members of the WBCC, which includes women's programs only, are Bluffton College, Defiance College, the University of Findlay, and Wilmington College.

John Brumbaugh won the NAIA District 22 singles title as a freshman.

Men's tennis enjoys 32-3 season

The most successful four-year span for Coach Murray Murdoch's men's tennis team came to a close with the graduation of this year's senior class. The Yellow Jackets posted a 142-13 record in the last four years which included a perfect 57-0 record at home. That unblemished mark was kept in tact with victories over such schools as Cincinnati, Toledo, and Eastern Michigan.

The Jackets were 32-3 this season with a 9-3 mark versus NCAA Division I schools. They won their 20th NAIA District 22 title and were ranked as high as 10th nationally by the NAIA. Cedarville won five matches at the national tournament and placed 22nd.

Three seniors leave the program after winning more than 100 career singles matches. Steve Brumbaugh was 118-24, Dino Tsibouris 105-25, and Steve Lesko 102-27. Classmate Jeff Kohl was 92-41 as the team's #1 player for four years, and Scott Poling finished with a 62-16 career record.

Freshman John Brumbaugh was the NAIA District 22 singles champion by defeating his older brother in the final 2-6, 6-2, 6-4. The Brumbaughs were rated as high as 13th in NAIA doubles and were runner-up in the district.

Cedarville placed seven players on the 11-man All-NAIA District 22 team. That list included the Brumbaughs, Tsibouris, Lesko, Kohl, P.J. Kitchen, and Matt Kibble. Murdoch was named district Coach of the Year.

Tsibouris won two singles matches at the NAIA national tournament in Kansas City while Steve Brumbaugh was the only other singles winner. John Brumbaugh was seeded 23rd, the only Cedarville player to ever be seeded at the NAIA, but he lost in the first round.

The Brumbaugh brothers were seeded 13th in doubles and were knocked out in the second round. Tsibouris and Kibble were beaten in the second round by the eventual national doubles champs.

Minto bids farewell

Michael Minto, a crowd favorite among Yellow Jacket basketball fans for the past two years, presented the following words at the Cedarville basketball banquet this spring. The seniors on the team are annually given the opportunity to speak at the event and Minto, as the lone senior on this year's squad, was the only speaker.

The Kingston, Jamaica native spent his first two years of college at nearby Central State University, just four miles away. He decided to transfer to Cedarville in the spring of 1988. Michael's deep appreciation for his experience in the Yellow Jacket program was easily sensed by those who heard his speech, and he agreed to have it reprinted in this issue of THE STING.

My two years at Cedarville College seem just like two weeks time. It really went by fast. But as my grandparents always say, only "salvation lasts forever."

First of all, I want to thank God for the opportunity He gave me to attend Cedarville College. (I thank Him) not just for a college education, but for the integration of biblical principles into every aspect of life — daily and professional life. I know this will be very valuable to me as I enter into the business world.

I also want to thank the administration, faculty, staff, and student body for that special kind of support they have given us over the years. I have never been in such a great environment for basketball. It's just awesome!

Teammates, I want you guys to know that you are some of the most unique guys that I have ever played basketball with. I have been around a lot of teams, international and at other colleges, and you guys really mean a lot to me.

We have played many games under adversity, and if you'll remember, those were some of the best games we had. Winning those games shows the uniqueness in this team, and I am really going to miss you guys. But, our friendship will always be remembered. Thank you for the wonderful season we had, including a district championship.

Coach Reese and Coach Williams, it has been great working with both of you. I just want to say thank you for a job well done.

Coach Callan, I have to say many, many thanks to you. You have helped me in many ways — financially, and most of all spiritually. It seems like words are just not enough to say thank you and to show my appreciation. But, I want you to know that I will always remember the kindness you showed to me.

Frank Back will return for his senior campaign next year after scoring 1,004 points in just two years as a Yellow Jacket.

Cagers finish 24-13 as NCCAA runner-up

Coach Don Callan's hoop team placed second at the National Christian College Athletic Association (NCCAA) national tournament in March in Chattanooga, Tenn. It was the second time in three years that the Yellow Jackets have finished as NCCAA runner-up.

Cedarville earned its way to the eight-team nationals by first winning the NCCAA District III title in a 93-91 victory at Mt. Vernon Nazarene. The Jackets maintained their momentum by crushing Milligan, Tenn. 105-81 in the first round at Chattanooga.

The third-seeded Yellow Jackets then had to face host and two-time defending champion Tennessee Temple, who was the number two seed. Callan, who had flown to Kansas City that same day to be inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame, returned just before tip-off to lead his squad to a 79-76 victory.

Top-seeded Christian Heritage College from California provided the opposition in the final. The Hawks used their veteran line-up to outgun Cedarville 106-97 in a game that was much closer than the final score would indicate.

Sophomore guard Mark Combs and freshman swingman Ken Rucker were named to all-tournament team. Senior center Michael Minto was selected to the NCCAA All-America second team.

Minto graduated by setting career records for field goal accuracy (.621) and blocked shots (146). He scored 1,081 points in his two seasons at Cedarville and led the team this past year with an average of 15.8 points per game.

THANK YOU

Yellow Jacket Club

More than 170 people generously provided gifts to the Cedarville College Yellow Jacket Club for scholarships to worthy student-athletes and trainers. The Yellow Jacket Club Committee, coaches, athletes, and student-trainers would like to say THANK YOU to those who gave.
